For the prevention and cure o
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

THERE came to the stables of the subscriber, on Monday the 1st inst. a person calling himself and obtained a horse and gig on hire, as he said, to go to Ellicott's Mills, and return in the afternoon of the same day; and as he has not yet returned, there is strong reason to believe that his intention is to swindle me out of my property. He is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age, of genteel appearance, and well calculated to deceive.

The horse is a grey, about 15 hands high, 9 or 10 years old, has a switch tail, a speck on the right eye, and moves swiftly. The gig has a green body, carriage and wheels black, the lining of blue cloth, red stuff top, linings, plated double—outside joints.

I will give the above reward for the recovery of the horse and gig, and the detection of the scoundrel, or 20 dollars for the horse and gig only, and all reasonable expenses if delivered to me, No. 26, North Liberty street, Baltimore.

ADIEU TO LOVE.

ADDRESSED TO CHARLOTTE.

Dwells there a heart replete with joy,
In Cupid's throng, at beauty's shrine—
Or dwells there peace without alloy—
'Tis only in that breast of thine.

Oh Resignation! shed on me
Elysium influence from above:
Oh hold me not so far from thee,
But teach me an adieu to love.

Dwells there of hope a single ray
That bids my sanguine heart to woo?
Another's eyes did late betray,
Another loves—and triumphs too.

That mutual glance proclaims the theme,
In which each soul delights to move—
That envied smile dissolves the dream,
And reason bids adieu to love.

Dwells there a generous spark within
A bosom taught by grief to bend?
O yes—I'll freely give her him,
And hail philosophy my friend.

A few short years will glide away,
And then this heart shall cease to rove:
Come, welcome time, and haste the day,
When death confirms—adieu to love!

ORLANDO.

ELECTIONEERING.

The late John Ellis, esq. who was termed "a violent party man," was employed as an agent in an election which was not only strongly contested on the spot, but the proceedings were, on the ground of some irregularity, brought before the House of Commons. To the bar of the house Mr. Ellis was brought, on the part of the petitioning candidate, when he underwent a cross-examination, of which the following is the substance: [London paper.

"We understand, Mr. Ellis, that a very considerable sum was expended in this election, and that great part of it was directed to the purpose of corrupting the voters. Do you know of any such application of money, or of any bribes being actually accepted on the part of the electors?"—"Indeed Sir, I do: as agent, I know that our party bribed all that we could get to accept our money!" At this acknowledgement, a pause of astonishment seemed to pervade the House; a murmur succeeded, which only subsided on a member's saying to the witness, "Your party did not carry the election?" "No," returned Ellis, with great composure, "we did not"—"Well, but Mr. Ellis," said the first querist, "is it not extraordinary, as you say you bribed all that would take your money, that you did not return your member?" "Not in the least," said Ellis—"No! why how do you account for it?"—"Easily! the opposite party outbribed us." At this there was an universal burst of laughter. "I shall not ask you any more questions, Mr. Ellis," said the interrogator, with great indignation.

ANECDOTE OF THE HABEAS CORPUS ACT.

This important act, which is considered as another Magna Charta, and of which our Ministers make a jest, was obtained by a jest, according to Bishop Burnet. Whatever credit may be due to the story itself, at all events, it proves that a very formidable opposition was made to it at that time. "It was carried (said he) by an odd artifice in the House of Lords. Lord Gray and Lord Norris were named to be the tellers; Lord Norris being a man subject to vapours, was not at all times attentive to what he was doing, so a very fat lord coming in, Lord Gray counted him ten for a jest at first, but seeing Lord Norris had not observed it, he went on with this misreckoning of ten, so it was reported to the house, and declared that they who were for the bill were the majority, though it indeed went on the other side; and by this means the bill passed. Burnett's Hist. Church, II. 485.

Triboulet, the Fool of Francis I, was threatened with death by a man in power, of whom he had been speaking disrespectfully. He applied to the King for protection. "Be satisfied," said the King, "if any man puts you to death, I will order him to be hanged a quarter of an hour after." "Ah, Sir," replied he, "I should be much obliged, if your majesty would order him to be hanged a quarter of an hour before.

A certain physician, when he visited his rich and luxurious patients, always went into their kitchens and shook hands with their cooks. "My good friends," said he, "I owe you much, for you confer great favors upon me. Your skill, and your ingenious and palatable art of poisoning, enables us medical men to ride in our carriages; without your assistance we should all go on foot and be starved."

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 31, 1818.

FOR THE GAZETTE.

Critical Essay on the Fourth Canto of Childe Harold's Pilgrimage.

[NO. 2.]

After two stanzas devoted to Ariosto, the Pilgrim thus apostrophises Italy:

XLII.

Italia! oh Italia! thou who hast
The fatal gift of beauty, which became
A funeral dower of present woes and past,
On thy sweet brow is sorrow ploughed by shame,
And annals graved in characters of flame.
Oh God! that thou wert in thy nakedness
Less lovely or more powerful, and could'st claim
Thy right, and awe the robbers back who press
To shed thy blood, and drink the tears of thy distress.

XLIII.

Then might'st thou more appal; or, less desir'd,
Be homely and be peaceful, undeplored
For thy destructive charms; then, still untired,
Would not be seen the armed torrents pour'd
Down the deep Alps; nor would the hostile horde
Of many-nation'd spoilers, from the Po
Quaff blood and water; nor the stranger's sword
Be thy sad weapon of defence, and so,
Victor or vanquish'd, thou the slave of friend or foe.

* * * * * * *

XLVI.

That page is now before me, and on mine
His country's ruin added to the mass
Of perished states he mourn'd in their decline,
And I in desolation: all that was
Of them destruction is; and now, alas!
Rome—Rome imperial, bows her to the storm,
In the same dust and blackness, and we pass
The skeleton of her Titanic form,
Wrecks of another world, whose ashes still are warm.

XLVII.

Yet Italy! through every other land
Thy wrongs should ring, and shall, from side to side;
Mother of arts! as once of arms; thy hand
Was then our guardian, and is still our guide;
Parent of our religion! whom the wide
Nations have knelt to for the keys of heaven!
Europe, repentant of her parricide,
Shall yet redeem, and all backward driven,
Roll the barbarian tide, and sue to be forgiven.

Harold's visit to Santa Croce is announced in a eulogy to the illustrious persons who are interred within its precincts: Michael Angelo, who had the rare felicity of reaching eminence in both architecture and painting; Galileo, the favorite of astronomy; Machiavelli, the prince of the modern continental historians; and Alfieri, who has become a classic, without waiting for, or needing the sanction of time. A note to these passages contains an affectionate notice of Madame de Staël. To speak without enthusiasm of this daughter of glory—this marvel of mind—is difficult and undesirable. But the judgment of posterity will fortify the warm sentiment of contemporary praise, and accumulate honors on the memory of the undying Corinna. Possessing almost an Aristotelian aptitude for philosophical inquiry, she conducted the novice into the labyrinth of metaphysics, and the clew to his egress were the flowers she had scattered on his path. To an imagination impatient of reality, and wandering in the world it had created, she added a heart delighting in the sympathies and duties of ordinary life. In her, the excellencies, which existing singly have given eminence to other writers, were associated; and with so curious a felicity, that however varying in their nature, they harmonized in their operation. Reason, often a cold abstraction, was here made gracious by fancy: fancy, often a giddy phantom, here received authority from reason; and both were endeared by a sensibility which softened them, but could not enervate.

Such was the child of Neckar—a literary character, in many points without a parallel.

It is known that Petrarca and Dante, tho' both natives of Florence, were not there buried. This knowledge derives fresh interest from the following stanza:

LIX.

And Santa Croce wants their mighty dust;
Yet for this want more noted, as of yore
The Cæsar's pageant, shorn of Brutus' bust,
Did but of Rome's best son remind her more:
Happier Ravenna! on thy hoary shore,
Fortress of falling empire! honored sleeps
The immortal exile:—Arqua, too, her store
Of tuneful relics proudly claims and keeps,
While Florence vainly begs her banish'd dead and weeps.

Of the classical allusion here contained, lord Byron had before availed himself in some lines on the dismission of the countess of Jersey's portrait from the gallery of the prince regent. This poignant sample of his satirical powers is, by a singular neglect, not included in any American edition of his poems.

The stanza on Boccaccio is chiefly remarkable for the note appended to it. The greater part of the annotations to this canto were furnished by Mr. Hobhouse, who, on the present occasion, has hinted a mistake rather singular in an adept. He states that a small town in the Val d'Elsa was by some supposed to be the birth place of Boccaccio. From this remark, introducing a long illustration of that writer's biography, the fair inference is, that if Mr. Hobhouse disbelieved the conjecture, he at least thought that none more probable had been hazarded. But every one knows, or ought to know, that however correctly the supposition may apply to Boccaccio's father, he was born in Paris. The great objection though to this note, is its censure of that man of gentleness, genius and accomplishment, the late Mr. Eustace. This truly classical traveller had observed of Boccaccio, that "the abuse of genius is more odious and more contemptible than the want of it." Now there does not seem to be any very heinous sin in this stricture. It is a matter perfectly notorious that the Decameron, though affluent in every variety of subject, and in all the graces of the most graceful of dialects, is deplorably licentious. One, probably the leading cause, of this transgression against morality, was the fondness of Boccaccio for the Neapolitan princess Maria. About the year 1341, by the command, and for the entertainment of this lady, then married, her admirer composed his "hundred tales of love. The vicious taste of his lovely mistress, fostered, perhaps generated, by the contact of a vicious court, taught Boccaccio that to her the sweetest, were not the most platonic strains. Certainly when a man of virtue passed by his tomb, veneration for talent ought not to withhold the chastisement due to its pernicious display.

Subsequently the annotator renews his attack by denying the competency and truth of his great predecessor. In supporting this charge, he convicts Mr. Eustace of only a botanical error, and mistaking the lead covering of St. Peter's cupola for copper! His reply to the philippics of the latter against the French for their spoliations in Italy, proves him to entertain prejudices less venial than those of his amiable antagonist. The desolation produced by military violence on the most delightful section of the globe, is surely fitted to excite the indignation of all to whom nature has denied that malediction or blessing—the phlegmatic temparament of Mr. Hobhouse. To speak plainly, this learned and penetrative author appears to possess feelings which, though sometimes irritated into anger, are seldom quickened into sympathy.

FROM ST. MARY'S.

We learn by the United States brig Prometheus, from St. Mary's River, that the crew of the privateer or prize schooner, which landed upon Cumberland Island, as mentioned in yesterday's Courier, had been arrested, and the property in their possession secured. The schooner had been previously scuttled and sunk in Jekyl sound. The various and contradictory accounts given by the privateersmen, relative to the vessel, &c. rendered it impossible to get at the truth as to the national character of the vessel. The other schooner mentioned as having on board a cargo of dry goods, &c. was also sunk The general opinion is, that one vessel was the privateer, and the other her prize.

WEST INDIA NEWS.

Every day brings us some new account of depredations committed by private armed cruizers in the West Indies. One of these vessels which had been cruizing in the neighborhood of Curracoa and perpetrating numerous acts of piracy, captured on the 28th of April a Danish schooner belonging to that Island, with a valuable cargo of wine, cotton, and coffee, besides 448 doubloons. The pirates sent the crew of the schooner ashore at Bonaire—but, the owners remained some time on board the piratical vessel, endeavoring to get the schooner released, though it was to no purpose; the captain answered all his remonstrances by alledging that his crew were determined to make a prize of her, and he was obliged to comply.

The same privateer, a day or two after the above capture, fell in with the Spanish brig Manuel of 12 guns, and 35 men, in company with another armed brig and a schooner—the Manuel was from Puerto Cabello, bound to Barcelona in Spain, and was laden with cotton, indigo and cocoa. The privateer soon brought the Manuel to action, when the other brig and the schr. made off.—The action was sustained with great obstinacy for several hours, when just as the pirate was in the act of hauling off having lost her bowsprit and sustained much damage in her sails and rigging, the Manuel unfortunately blew up. Eight of the crew of the Manuel escaped in the boat and landed at Bonaire, and several others were picked up out of the water by the privateer's boats.

Admiral Brion, in a letter to the commandant at St. Thomas, dated at the Five Islands, May the 1st, speaks of one Hodson who had armed and fitted out privateers without any authority from the Venezuelian government: the Admiral declares him a pirate, and states that he should give directions to his cruizers to intercept him. Admiral Brion's squadron at the above date consisted of the Vittoria, (flag ship) 36 guns, two corvettes of 24 guns, and various others of less calibre, independent of smaller vessels.

An old gentleman, named Aaron Mendez Solas, a Hebrew, and resident of Kingston, Jamacia, who had attained the advanced age of 82 years, was murdered in his own house on the night of the 13th June, by some person or persons who escaped undiscovered, and carried off with them a large amount in jewels belonging to the deceased.

A case of murder occurred at St. Lucie on the 9th of June, of a singularly savage nature, A man named M'Callum, the owner of a small drogher, having a dispute with the master of his vessel, it was bro't before a magistrate, who decided against M'Callum: whereupon the vindictive wretch deliberately took a pair of pistols from his pocket and fired the one at the magistrate, and the other at the clerk of the peace who was officiating at the time; the former received a ball through the breast and the latter through the head. The murderer was immediately apprehended and lodged in close custody.

FROM GIBRALTAR,
(per the Thomas Tenant)

Extract of a letter to the Editors, dated Gibraltar, June 3, 1818.

"I have no news to send you by this opportunity, save only that the poor Dons are so harrassed by the "vile rebels," the privateers, that even the little coasting trade between this and Cadiz, only sixty miles in extent, is cut up. All trade of value between these two ports is carried on under the American or English flag. Four privateers have literally blockaded the port of Cadiz for some time past, making captures in sight of the walls! And the Russian fleet in port!

"Our elegant ship the Franklin, Capt. Ballard, has just anchored in this Bay, 8 days from Leghorn. No news by her.—The Peacock sailed with her, and will be in in the course of the day. The others remain aloft."

Capt. Herbert informs that the Peacock had arrived before he sailed. ibid.

NEW PATENTS.

We have seen a Register of the patents issued during the year 1817, at the patent-office, Washington. They indicate a very active state of the American mind, continually bent upon discoveries; eternally groping after something which is or seems to be an improvement. They are 174 in number, and embrace a large sphere of operations. Some of them are sufficiently curious. There is a Grammatical Key; a Convalescent Chair; an Accommodation Couch; Elixir of Life; a Spring Vaccinator; Veterinary Ventilated Bath; Grand Antibilious and Depurative Gurides; Remedy for Tooth-aches, &c. Many others are devoted to useful subjects. There are not less than nine patents connected with improvements in steam engines; a variety of patents in water-wheels; various modes of moving vessels by condensed air, animal power, steam engines, &c. New York seems to claim the greatest number of the patentees, 46 being from that state; Massachusetts, which would be supposed to be of the most inventive character, and fuller of mechanical notions than any other state, claims but 35 patentees; Virginia is very modest in her pretensions, having patented only 9 inventions, which are as follows:

Mode of obtaining salt-water, by David and Joseph Ruffner, Kanawha, Virginia.

Mode of applying draught horses to machinery, by Webb Hart, Accomack.

Brick making and clay grinding machine, by William Mitchell, Richmond.

Improvement in window and door frames, by John Jordan, Rockbridge county.

Angular plough, by John Lupton, Virginia.

Machine for cutting wooden and metal screws, by John Andrews, Dinwiddie county.

Vertical axes, steps or ink and gudgeon, by the same.

Improvement on the steam-engine, by John Heavin.

Improvement in the manufacture of salt, by Everard Hall, Princess Anne.

The London Monthly Magazine and other English periodical publications furnish a list and specifications of the most important patents issued in Great Britain. It is desirable that a similar mode could be pursued in some of the publications of this country. [Richmond Compiler.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The ship Euphrates, Capt. De Cost, arrived at this port on Saturday evening, in 44 days from Liverpool. From our correspondents we have received London papers of the evening of the 8th of June, Liverpool of the 10th, and Lloyd's list to the 6th. The extracts we have given comprise all they contain of any interest.

The following letter of the latest date from Liverpool gives a plain view of the state of the market.

"Liverpool, July 10.

The demand for cotton continues very limited and prices are scarcely maintained—we may, however, still quote uplands at 20d to 21d as the prices asked—but without submitting to some decline sales would not be made freely. New-Orleans 20½d a 2s—the middling qualities are, comparatively speaking, in rather more request at present, as being a cheaper purchase than good upland. Sea Island dull at 3s a 4s. Our imports still continue considerable, and our stock of late has in consequence been encreasing. About thirty thousand bags of East India will be bro't to sale in London on the 26th instant. Much of this kind of cotton is already held on speculation, and this additional quantity thrown on the market, it is apprehended will have a depressing effect on the prices.

The disposition to speculate in flour, since the advance in price, has in a great degree subsided, and the sales now making are almost exclusively for consumption. The demand however, for this purpose is yet far from being extensive, and within the last few days the dealers have shewn much less disposition to buy. Yesterday 3000 bbls were bro't to auction, only about 2000 of which were sold at from 46s to 48s 6d per bbl. We may quote good flour at 47s 6d a 48s 6d but the sale for all descriptions is dull at present. The demand, however, may be expected to revive again, and a continuance of the present dry weather will rather tend to increase it. For good wheat we continue to have extensive sales to the country, and prices are improving.—Dantzic is now worth 13s 3d a 13s 6d per 70 lb. American 12s a 12s 6d. Our imports have become more moderate of late; but there seems little doubt that there will yet be a large supply before harvest, more particularly from the Baltic. We expect, however, the continuance of a great demand for wheats, but whether the supply may not be quite equal to it is yet uncertain—we estimate that the sales of foreign wheats in the kingdom during the last six weeks, cannot have been less than equal to about 500,000 bbls of flour. The average returns are now falling. The last was 85s 2d, and it is likely they will yet go lower, but we think there is still a considerable prospect of our ports keeping open.

Pot ashes meet with a dull sale at 52s a 64s.—Pearls being in few hands are now held at 57s a 58s per cwt.—Rice in bond in limited request at 35s a 36s.—Naval stores very dull—tar 15s a 17s per bbl.—turpentine 15s a 16s 6d—bark, 20s for Livingston's.—Six per cent Stock, par, deliverable 1st next month.

American stocks, at London, June 6, three per cents, 70 a 71; New Sixes, 102 a 102½ Sevens, 109 a 109½—dividend from 1st April. Louisiana sixes and Bank shares, nothing done.

London, June 8.

We have received Paris papers of Friday last.

It is stated with an appearance of certainty, that some of the convicted assassins of the Sieur Fualdes, namely, Bastide, Jausion and Colard, will immediately undergo their sentence; that the woman has obtained a respite until the determination of the new proceedings: and that the capital punishment has, with respect to Bax, been commuted to 20 years imprisonment.

The Austrian army, with the exception of that part now forming a corps of the Army of occupation in France has been put on the peace establishment. We believe that the distressed state of the finances of Austria was the principal cause of this measure; but it is a fortunate circumstance for Europe, as it may induce the other great powers to lay aside their attitude of mutual defence and sacrifice the splendor of military parade to the comforts and welfare of their people.

It will probably require two or three days to get the alien bill through all its stages in both houses, and Parliament, therefore, will now hardly be prorogued before Tuesday.

An article from Rome states, that the health of the Princess of Wales is satisfactory; and alludes to a report of M. Franchina Pergama, first chamberlain to her Royal Highness, having been poisoned. Doubts, however, are thrown on the accuracy of this rumor.

The intention authoritatively announced yesterday of proroguing Parliament this day has been abandoned, on account of the clause introduced into the alien bill by the House of Lords.—The preparations for the procession of the Prince Regent to the House of Lords, at two this day, had been actually begun, when about noon the order arrived for their discontinuance. The disappointment to a great number of beautiful elegantly dressed females was great.—They knew not of the putting off the prorogation till after they had reached the house of lords.

WESTMINSTER ELECTION.

A meeting of the friends of Mr. Hunt took place yesterday, at the Crown and Anchor tavern. A Mr. Elliot took the chair, and a Mr. Harley proposed several resolutions in favor of Mr. Hunt, as a proper person to represent the city of Westminster. The chairman read some letters from Bristol, Manchester and other places, one of which had inclosed a one pound note for the advancement of Mr. Hunt's interests; and it was announced that Sir Francis Burdett had declared himself the advocate of the universal suffrage. Mr. Gale Jones spoke at some length in favor of Mr. Hunt.—Mr. Hunt made large professions of the purity of his principles, and promised that if he was returned he would be always found at his post, and never cease until he had effected a redress of the grievances of the people by the obtainment of Parliamentary reform and Universal Suffrage. The first thing he would do, would be to move the standing orders that the members should meet every morning at nine o'clock, instead of doing this dirty work in the dark. He had on the authority of Major Cartwright and others, that Sir F. Burdett had declared himself the friend of Universal Suffrage. He had the same authority for saying that Lord Folkstone, the son of a borough-monger, was the advocate of Universal Suffrage. He heard that Ministers intended to set up Sir George Cockburn, the officer who took the brave Napoleon to St. Helena. He anxiously hoped they would do so; he should be happy to see Sir George on the hustings; and he should bring a well armed vessel, bomb proof, with him, or he would be soon beaten out of the sea.—Mr. Harley addressed the meeting, and strongly recommended to every Elector to subscribe his mite towards defraying the expences of the Election. Thanks were then voted to the chairman, and the meeting dispersed.

This Mr. Stoops does with a view to bias the minds of the public—as he well knows that he never made any agreement for the timber that I have brought suit against him for. The timber that he alludes to is that he so feloniously and clandestinely bore off without any leave from me whatever. He has told some persons that he had bought the timber, and others that he had borrowed it; however, between the buying and borrowing, it has been nearly two years since the timber was taken, and only about one year since I found it out.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber on Tuesday evening last, between the hours of nine and ten o'clock, a mulatto woman named named Malvina and Bussy, sometimes called Mary Ann. Mary is about 40 years of age, five feet five inches high, has a remarkable mole on her chin; she was formerly the property of Mr. P. R. Beverly of Alexandria. The children are both mulattos the first named 12 years of age, and the last 6 years. The mother had on when she went off, a blue chequered domestic frock broad stripe—the children had on blue domestic frocks and check aprons, but as she carried with her a variety of clothing, it is probable she will change the dresses. It is supposed she has proceeded towards Philadelphia, and as she is a remarkable artful woman, will attempt to pass as a free woman. A reward of fifty dollars will be paid for apprehending and securing the above described runaways in the District of Columbia and reasonable charges, or the above reward if taken out of the District, and secured so that the owner gets them again, and reasonable charges if brought home.

MARY, with her two female children,

Masters of vessels are cautioned against harboring or carrying off said runaways, as they will be dealt with according to law.

To the friends of Humanity.

AN aged, infirm, and widowed mother, is desirous to receive information of of THOMAS BURTON CARTER, an only son, concerning whom she has not heard any thing, on which reliance can be placed, for nearly three years. He removed from this place to the state of Ohio about five years ago. The last certain account she had from him, was from Cadiz in that state. He is about twenty five years of age; by trade a tailor. Vague rumour has recently pronounced him dead. A letter communicating information relative to him, directed to Henry Tutwieler, P. M. at this place, would confer a peculiar kindness on an afflicted woman.

The owner is desired to come and take them away, otherwise they will be sold as the law directs, for their prison fees, &c.

Piano-Fortes and Organs.

THE subscriber, who carries on the manufacture of these instruments in N. York, is now in Alexandria, where he will remain a short time, during which he will attend to repair, regulate the action and improve their tones and musical effects.—A specimen of his work and abilities may be examined in the store second door below the Mechanics' Bank, King street, where he offers for sale two of his Piano-Fortes at the New-York prices—one of them an elegant upright grand, of a full bodied mellow tone and brilliant touch—the other is of the horizontal sextagon form, highly finished, with extra additional keys. He warrants them perfectly sound, and of the first quality.—He will allow in exchange a fair price for old pianos or organs, being such as he approves.—He also has for sale a few fine toned old violins and elegant bows, and concert flutes.—He is perfectly acquainted with the harpsichord construction, and offers to put them in complete order.

Orders left at the store, or at Mr. Abercrombi's, cabinet-maker, or at Capt. Nelson's, King street, will be promptly attended to on his return to New-York.

50 Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber on Saturday night the 27th ult, a Negro man by the name of JACOB THOMPSON, aged 22 or 23, nearly 6 feet high, very black, and rather a down look when spoken to—he is very apt to put one hand up to his chin when answering questions. He is a very submissive orderly fellow—His clothing that can be recollected consisted of a blue second cloth coat with yellow buttons, nearly new; Russia sheeting shirts and trowsers, and a variety of other clothing not recollected. I fully expect he must have from 150 to 200 dollars with him in money—and very little doubt but he had furnished himself with free papers. Whoever takes up the said fellow, secures him in jail, and retains all moneys and papers he may have on him, shall be entitled to the money found on him, and the above reward if taken out of the District; or twenty dollars if taken within the District of Columbia. French Creek Boarding School.

The following is published for the information of Parents:

HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL for GIRLS.—With this view I have purchased the FRENCH CREEK FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Norristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pikeland and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniencies for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.

In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their ages, nor to require that they shall all be members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter.—The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 5th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stabler, Alexandria, or to

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phænomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavoured to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terez or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
